THEMES IN IOWA'S CHILD CARE CONVERSATION:

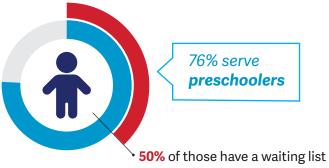

STRENGTHS & PARTNERSHIPS – STRONG FOUNDATIONS

A healthy, engaged lowa workforce is inextricably linked to child care. The pandemic has elevated this challenge, but it's always been there.

STATEWIDE, IOWA HAS ONLY 1,500 LICENSED CARE CENTERS:

For every four infants and toddlers enrolled, there are three more on the waitlist.

For every five preschoolers enrolled, there are two more on the waitlist.

CENTERS ARE CHALLENGED IN MANY WAYS:

Staff recruitment and retention: low wages and lack of benefits

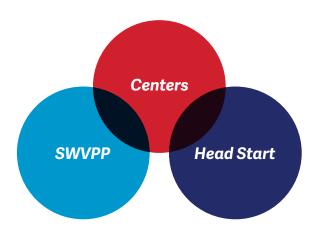

Facilities: centers lack sufficient outdoor space, indoor gross motor space, and storage

Child to staff ratio: costs and demand make limiting enrollment to maximize quality difficult

CHILD CARE COMMITMENT AND CHALLENGES

STRONG PARTNERSHIPS CAN HELP IOWA MEET THE CHILD CARE CHALLENGE.

Centers report sharing both space and children with SWVPP and Head Start programs, and 36 percent report children in their centers participating in early intervention or special education services.

DEDICATED CHILD-CARE PROFESSIONALS ARE THE MOST IMPORTANT PARTNERS OF ALL.

Coming from a wide variety of educational backgrounds, lowa's child care workforce is highly dedicated. The average 12-month retention rate, as reported by participating centers, was 84 percent.
